For many anaesthetists, performing an awake fiberoptic intubation (AFOI) remains a daunting prospect. This seminar presents a unique opportunity to consolidate your AFOI skills in a full day practical workshop. Participants will anaesthetise and then perform endoscopy on each other's upper airways in a safe, supervised environment.

The all-day workshop consists of three segments:

- Brief lectures encompassing endoscopic anatomy and topical anaesthesia of the upper airway.
- Manual dexterity and familiarisation of equipment using manikins and models.
- Performing awake fiberoptic intubation to carina on three other participants (note: intubation with an ETT will not be performed).

This workshop emphasises simplicity in its approach and equipment, enabling the technique to be employed in any operating theatre environment.

* Transport provided from ICC to Gosford Hospital Simulation Centre. and return
